

"I've been taught by the most brilliant minds in education, but my greatest lesson came from a man who never finished high school."

—Roderick Alfred Haygood, Jr.
playwright

He told me, "Son, go to college." He gave me the will; Allstate gave me the way. As an active financial supporter of Historically Black Colleges and Universities, Allstate makes it possible for tomorrow's leaders to attend college and enjoy more options in life. It's educating every day. Beyond February.
